

Leader as Sponsor of Change Customized Virtual Workshops

Lead organizational change and sponsor the implementation

The program is both a change management learning and a customized working session designed for executives and leadership teams who recognize the value of change management and want to make it a critical business tool for their organization.

In these workshop, leaders will learn how to define success from a people perspective, and manage risk along the way. Participants will learn factors that make for successful change, assess risk against them, and build a change plan tailored to their needs. The workshop is broken into 3 components.

- Two virtual workshop sessions that provide the tools and techniques to define a solid change plan
- One personal coaching session that provides 1- on-1 support.

Program objectives

- Define the role and responsibilities as leaders of change
- Define the Desired State of current challenges, and metrics to identify “done”.
- Develop effective techniques to lead change
- Learn and apply tools and techniques to reduce risk and increase the probability of

Participants

Executives, senior management, leadership teams, leaders of change

Prerequisites: None

Pricing: $850 / participant

Discounts available for multiple signups from the same organization

Length: 4 hours + 1 hour personalized coaching

Location: Virtual

Materials: Customized participant guide

Customization: Workshops are tailored to current common business problems. Participants can sign up for pre-planned workshops on Levvel.ca or customized sessions can be built

Current Programs

Redefining Productivity in Uncertain Times

In this session, leaders will have the time and space to rethink what productivity means during the COVID-19 pandemic. Using the proven Managed Change methods, leaders will define what remote productivity looks like. They will determine how to measure success, measure the gap from here to there, define key risks to success, and create a plan to help people accept and adopt the new view of productivity.

Return to Work Plan

There's one question on everyone's mind right now. What is the plan as we begin to return to work after the COVID-19 pandemic? Your organization likely has a phased approach for bringing employees back to the office safely, but are you prepared to manage the fears and emotions of your team that come with it?

In this workshop, leaders will learn how to define success in the return to work from a people perspective and manage risk along the way. Participants will learn factors that make for successful change, assess risk against them, and build a change plan tailored to their needs.